

"I am still amazed at the subliminal impact of costume on both the actor and audience. The right jacket, shoes or dress can help an actor walk differently and suddenly unlock the essence of the character. Costume is an integral part of the theatrical toolkit."
Helen Mason, actor, director and designer

TUESDAY 12th JANUARY 7pm FOR 7.30pm EXPLORING COSTUMES & CHARACTER

led by Helen Mason

About Helen

Helen has been involved in devised and contemporary theatre for over 27 years. Her love of colour and training in interior and theatre design informs her work. Her varied roles have demanded costumes suitable for a pirate's moll, an Italian prostitute, an obsessive agoraphobic, an elderly sleuth, and a pregnant housewife. She is a founder member of STC.

About the workshop

Does the character inspire the costume or costume inspire the interpretation of the character? Join us for this interactive workshop to explore how the right costume can help devise or unlock a character. (Costumes provided).

SECOND TUESDAY
EVENT

fun, relaxed and practical

great for actors and show directors
alike

help develop or interpret a new character

all abilities welcome -
no experience
necessary,

STC MEMBERS FREE
NON MEMBERS £3

Location:
Studio 2, Vinters,
1b Sunnyhill Road,
Streatham,
SW16 2UG

www.streathamtheatre.org.uk
events@streathamtheatre.org.uk
020 3432 5710