

Mhairi Grealis, Playwright & Director

TUESDAY 14th MARCH 7pm FOR 7.30pm STANISLAVSKI METHOD ACTING

led by Mhairi Grealis

About Mhairi

Mhairi is a local director and writer. She trained in directing, and has been teaching acting for thirteen years. She is currently writing a novel. Her last play, BECOMING HATTIE, toured England and came into the West End and is set to tour out again this year.

About the workshop

Stanislavski was the first theatre practitioner in the West to propose that actor training should involve something more than merely physical and vocal training. Stanislavski is now widely recognised as the "father of modern acting" and most drama schools base their teaching in his system. Come and get an insight into what actors do and how they do it. This workshop is perfect for aspiring actors, those who want an insight into the industry or anyone interested in public speaking.
