

"The script has gone through several drafts, but is it ready for performance? I am really excited to hear the characters come to life and looking forward to receiving constructive feedback from actors, directors and writers I trust."

Jo Ostrowska: local writer, comic and director

TUESDAY 8th SEPT 7pm FOR 7.30pm

NEW WRITING: CRITICAL SCRIPT REVIEW

led by Jo Ostrowska (playwright)

About Jo

Jo lives in Streatham and is an aspiring comic, director and writer. She has appeared at several local stand-up comedy nights, including Streatham Festival gigs. Jo has been part of the writing team, producer and director for a number of STC's recent shows. "MUM" tells the story of 6 characters going through stages of pregnancy and childbirth.

About the workshop

This informal group reading of a new script will be a chance for the playwright to stand back and listen to the script come to life. Bring your experience and insights as an audience member, actor or stage manager to help Jo improve the current plot, characterisation and practical aspects of the staging. An exciting opportunity to contribute to the development of a new piece of writing.
