Hamlet off the Street:
Thursday 20 to Saturday 22 September

For 3 days this week only, you can see performances of our unique version of Hamlet in and around St. Leonard's Church.

We advise getting advance tickets as spaces are limited!

Streatham means 'hamlet on the street', but performing a show literally on a street is a major headache, so we're taking William Shakespeare's Hamlet off the street, to our beautiful St. Leonard's church with the audience following the action as it unfolds inside and outside the building.

Hamlet is justly one of Shakespeare's best-known plays, with a powerful story and some of the most beautiful speeches and familiar sayings ever written in English. It is normally 3 hours long, but our much shorter adaptation by Liz Burton tells the story by linking the most famous scenes with narration and music.

It introduces Hamlet to people who may not have the inclination or opportunity to see a full production, and to give actors who are inexperienced in acting Shakespeare a chance to speak those beautiful speeches.

During the performances we will be making a cash collection for the St. Leonard's renovation fund.

Sept 20, 21, 22 at 7.30pm and Sept 22 at 3pm
