Join us for our very first comedy masterclass and comedy club event on zoom

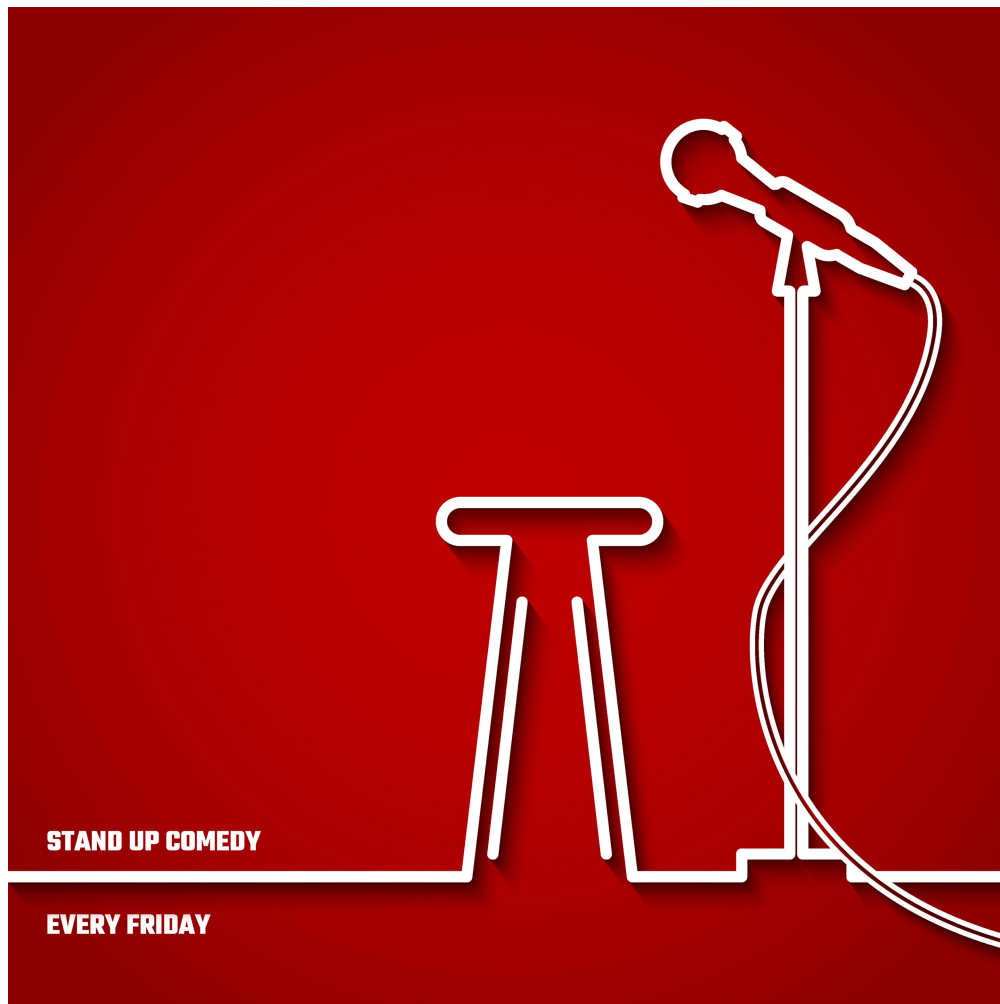

We are delighted that STC member Jo Ostrowska, herself a well-known and experienced local comedian, has persuaded Sion, comedy compere and promoter and headline comedian Patrick Monahan to join her in leading this event for STC.

We all need a bit of laughter at the moment, and if you've ever fancied trying your hand at the stand up comedy side of performance, this could be the night for you.

The masterclass will include:

- What to do if you are thinking of becoming a Stand Up Comedian:
 - Script writing
 - Performing
 - Getting gigs
 - On stage
 - Resolving any problems on stage
- An interview with Sion - Comedy Compere and promoter, talking about his comedy experiences online
- Question time - your chance to ask a question of one of the comic trio
- Open mic slot introduced with by Jo or Sion - our very own comedy gig 2 minute slots for audience members to try out their own routine/joke/story
- Headline set by comedian Patrick Monahan to finish the evening

And in case you are (understandably) skeptical about how a comedy night can work on zoom, Sion will bring his experience and expertise in unmuting the audience so we can hear the laughter and feel like we are at a club night.

Join us to laugh. listen or take part

To participate in the open mic slot please e mail: info@streathamtheatre.org.uk in advance with your name and brief description of your type of routine.
